Mrs. Annie Fischer, a midwife, living in the same house with Dora Weber's father, and her adopted daughter, Annie Beck, testified that they saw Mr. O'Connell becken Dora to go into the stable, and frequently saw him send the child for drink to a neighboring saloon.

Mrs. Kelly also stated that she saw Dora Weber take drink into the stable to her husband's guest, who kept the little girl inside.

A motion by ex-Assemblyman Van Cott, the defendant's lawyer, to dismiss was denied, and Mr. O'Connell was called. Before he was sworn the clergyman, who had been reprimanded several times by the Court for interrupting the proceedings, asked Justice Divver for a glass of water.

The plaintiff alleges that the day set for the marriage was June 14, last, and that the day before that date, defendant refused to marry her.

The plaintiff says she met the defendant a few days ago and asked him why he would not keep his promise and marry her. He replied:

"I don't like you and I am going back to Germany, any way."
